Technical Services successfully complete their first round of maintenance work at Eckes Granini

In May, the staff of our Technical Services department successfully completed the first of a total of four planned maintenance assignments at our client Eckes Granini's premises in Hennef.

The assignment consisted of four days of intensive work, with our four-person team doing an excellent job under challenging conditions.

"Servicing the complex ventilation systems places very high technical and organisational demands on the technicians. So they need to have a sound knowledge of mechanics, and electrical and control engineering in order to be able to understand and maintain the different system components," says Alexandra Schmidt, cost accountant.

That the maintenance work was such a success and so helped to strengthen the client's confidence in Vebego is due to the team, their team spirit and the solution-driven cooperation on site. "So a big thank you to everyone who helped to make it a success," says Eric Nötzold, branch manager.

Short notice

Vebego Security Services sponsors a 33-hour run

Am Sandberg grammar school in Wilkau-Haßlau near Zwickau held a 33-hour run at the end of June to mark its 33-year anniversary and to celebrate the school's sense of community. All pupils along with parents, teachers and former pupils spent an uninterrupted 33 hours – not stopping through the night – keeping the baton moving along the stadium track at Zwickau's Westsachsenstadion. Vebego also participated as a sponsor.

"It's my son's school. That's why I was very happy when Vebego agreed to sponsor the event by providing a security team of two, Marcus Kleinert and Katja Pohl. They both did an amazing job and it was a really lovely event," says Simone Schönleber, Head of Security Services in Chemnitz.

By the end, the runners had covered a total of 11,511 km, far more than the original target of 3000 km. Vebego's congratulations to everyone for their impressive performance.

Clean performance for 31,000 fans

On 1 August 2025, we took charge of maintenance cleaning at the Schauinsland-Reisen-Arena in Duisburg, the home ground of both MSV Duisburg football team and the American football team Rhein Fire.

A stadium is a very special kind of property, where cleaning is mainly fitted around home match fixtures and events with changing opening hours and large visitor numbers. It's a job that calls for dependability, flexibility and teamwork.

The stadium management was impressed with our cleaning concept so, from now on, up to 30 dedicated VebeGo staff members equipped with such modern devices as the iMop will be making sure that traffic areas, stands and other parts of the stadium are reliably maintained and ready for use.

"In the end, it took us nearly three years to secure the contract," says CSO Frank Keuper. "A big thank you to all of our people involved in the preparation and implementation of this project."

We are delighted to have begun our work in Duisburg and are looking forward to being part of this special setting in the future.

CSD 2025 in Cologne: Diversity Requires Visibility

Cologne hosted Christopher Street Day in July. Some 60,000 demonstrators and hundreds of thousands of spectators came together to fight for the rights of the LGBTQI+ community and to show their support for tolerance and acceptance. VebeGo was present once again this year with over 20 of our staff taking part – noisily, colourfully and clearly making a stand for what they believe. Even some of our colleagues from the Netherlands had travelled in especially for the event.

"For us, one thing is clear, that diversity is not an option but a fact which we acknowledge and value each and every day, and to which we are firmly committed," says Sylke Sergel, Chief People & Culture Officer. "Here at VebeGo, we nurture a culture in which everyone can be exactly who they are. Our prime focus is the goal we share – to do a fantastic job for our customers. Diversity is perhaps not always easy, but that it makes for better results is demonstrable. Thank you to all of our employees who attended the CSD event. It was a great demonstration."

Blood donation day at headquarters in Wuppertal

VebeGo's first blood donation day was held in collaboration with the German Red Cross at the company's headquarters in Wuppertal in early July. It was a resounding success, with some 40 staff members, including 18 first-time donors, interrupting their daily routine to do a good deed. Several neighbours from other companies on the site also made their way over especially to give blood.

The idea for a blood donation day came from our junior recruiter Nathalie Kottsieper, who organised the event along with the Red Cross as well as with assistance from Mike Mirbach (Recruiting Expert), Alexandra Zentner (Operative Units Coordinator), and Iris le Claire (Corporate Communication Team Manager). CEO Markus Breithaupt also took part.
